Background	My career is built on a solid foundation of hands-on welding experience. I began as a welder, where I developed a deep, practical understanding of metallurgy, techniques, and the craftsmanship required to create strong, sound welds. This firsthand knowledge was the perfect springboard for my advancement into welding inspection. In my current role as a Welding Inspector, I leverage that practical background to ensure the highest standards of quality and safety. I am skilled in interpreting codes and specifications, conducting visual and non-destructive tests, and meticulously documenting results. My unique perspective—having been on both sides of the arc—allows me to not only identify issues but also effectively communicate with welding teams to implement solutions. My last task was focused on overseeing pipeline WPS qualification to AWS D3.6D standards.
